Beckenhauer Construction Completes Norfolk Beverage Facility

Beckenhauer Construction worked closely with Norfolk Beverage owner Gary Blinn, manager Deb Gronau, Anheuser-Busch's facility planner, as well as receiving significant input from Norfolk Beverage's staff, to complete this 60,000 sf, $3.6 million design/build project last spring.

The facility includes an office building, refrigerated warehouse, refrigerated truck drive-through, and separate truck wash. Anheuser-Busch has more than 800 wholesalers nationwide and builds an average of one new facility each week.

Gary Blinn is more than satisfied with the finished product. "In this day and age, you can't just satisfy your customers—you must delight them—and we are very delighted with our building. The facility planner at Anheuser-Busch told me that this was some of the finest workmanship he had ever seen, and that's a tribute to all the contractors involved in building the project."
