Cold And Snow Doesn't Stop Progress At St. Francis Memorial Hospital

The warmth of summer feels like a blessing after the long months of a Nebraska winter, but the snow and cold didn't stop Beckenhauer crews from moving forward. Work at St. Francis Memorial Hospital in West Point progressed nicely throughout the frigid months. Exterior walls were enclosed, concrete floors were poured and demolition of openings to tie-in the new addition were completed. Work is continuing on interior framing, drywall, mechanical, electrical and plumbing.

Completion of the new addition is expected this fall, and will add 17 new patient rooms, new entry lobby, rehabilitation area, cafeteria and support space. Renovation of existing areas will follow the addition's completion.
