First Time Builder?

For most folks, the largest financial outlay they are ever involved with is their home. Few people ever have to deal with anything larger, such as a commercial building project, but when they are, for whatever reason, thrust into that position, they're normally in need of some assistance to ensure a successful project.

This is where Beckenhauer Construction and its team of professionals can come to your rescue. Think of us as your one-stop shopping destination for everything you'll need to make your project enjoyable and successful. It doesn't matter if you need to know "who's on first or what's on second"—we can help.

Our approach to assisting you can include help in finding land, evaluating the land for your intended use, helping to determine an appropriate budget for your project, providing design requirements, searching out financing options, providing information on overall project timelines, helping with information regarding cash flow analysis, etc. If the expertise isn't in our own office, it lies within our extended team of professionals. Tell us where your pain is and we'll provide the cure.

Because It's Our Commitment

Beckenhauer Construction has made a Corporate commitment to being a leader in the field of Design/Build and Construction Management. Our relationships are built upon trust, honesty and integrity as evidenced by our many repeat clients—many of whom have been shared from generation to generation.

Setting the bell tower at Herman Community Church.

For Whom The Bell Tolls

Tiny Herman, Nebraska, population 256, watched with anticipation as the refurbished bell tower from the church's old structure was placed atop its new facility. Herman Community Church is the town's only active house of worship. The congregation, faced with a facility that was no longer structurally sound, attended one of Beckenhauer Construction's sponsored National Association of Church Design Builders seminars (NACDB) and determined we had the expertise they needed to help them with their challenge. Beckenhauer joined NACDB because of the large number and high quality of resources available to our team in terms of design, financing and cost effectiveness for church construction.

The old bell tower, including the 1888 bell, is now in place and it sounds as sweet as ever. Other important elements salvaged from the old structure to become part of the continued heritage include several of the original stained glass windows and the beautiful oak railings at the head of the sanctuary. The Beckenhauer team is extremely proud to have been a part of Herman Community Church's team. This will be a beautiful addition to this small but vibrant community.

Roof damage to Valentine Presbyterian Church.

When Disaster Strikes

Following two major fire losses in the last three years in which we were called into to provide engineering and construction estimates and reconstruction, our Restoration Division is now involved in a major wind and water damage project involving the Presbyterian Church of Valentine, Nebraska. Our level of experience in engineering and construction assisted the church in identifying actual losses to the structure in addition to the original assessment by the insurance adjusters. Without the level of help we were able to bring to the owner, they may have settled for several hundred thousand dollars less than what was needed to correct the actual damages.

Certainly, our goal is to provide accurate information for both the insured and the insurer; however, our expertise in major claims often goes well beyond what most adjusters see and have experience with. Don't hesitate to call on us for assistance if you find yourself in a similar situation. We're here to help.

Court's In Session

The Holt County Courthouse addition and renovation is now completed. The design and craftsmanship make it difficult to see where the original building ends and the new addition starts. The Holt County Board of Supervisors and all the elected officials were a joy to work with on this project. Thanks from the entire Beckenhauer team for allowing us to partner with you on your project.
